

Ed Woodd

EQ and Education Consultant

Drawing on thirty plus years as an educational leader and teacher, kindergarten through college, in public and private education world-wide, Ed supports schools to make emotional intelligence an integral component of their culture. The goal: creating thriving learning environments where students, teachers, administrators and families succeed together.

Ed's credentials include:

- Currently Director of a public charter school incorporating emotional intelligence training for all stakeholders.
- Doctoral research in Emotional Intelligence.
- Appeared 4 times in Who's Who Among America's Teachers.

Ed's management consulting clients in education, government, and industry include The Nepalese Ministry of Education, King Mahidol University, the New Mexico Public Education Department, Stauffer Chemical Company, Rainier Bank, Automated Marketing Systems, and the Asian Institute of Technology.

He has also worked with the United Nations Environmental Programme, the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, the United Nations International Labour Organization, the International Schools Theatre Association, and Ford Motor Company Asia.

Contact Ed at Six Seconds:

Cell: 435 619-2502

Email: ed.woodd@6seconds.org

Web: www.6seconds.org

Ed is passionate about spreading the word that Emotional Intelligence training in schools yields proven results. Studies show that creating a healthy school culture reduces bullying and stress in addition to boosting academic achievement.