Certification Pathway

"I've been studying EQ for a number of years; I began looking for a robust EQ program/system that I could fully integrate into our organization's leadership development program, as well as enhance my coaching experience. After about 6 months of research, I chose Six Seconds. I found the model to be thorough, easy to understand and well-grounded in solid research. Their resource library and support personnel are extremely knowledgeable and responsive and the way they melded their EQ model into the International Coaching Foundation credentialing is outstanding. Lastly, being a member of Six Seconds Global Community provides a valuable insight into different cultures and approaches to applying EQ."

Models and Methods

Six Seconds; Certified EQ Coach program is uniquely powerful because of the robust models and methods that coaches are able to use through this training.

Six Seconds' tools are scientific, global, and transformational, combining a robust research base, 20 years of proven experience, numerous cases and studies, and practical applications.

The Change MAP

This model articulates change as an iterative process blending the rational stages of growth with the emotional drivers that make change fail or succeed.

The Six Seconds Model

A process framework for putting emotional intelligence into action, the model includes three key steps, or "pursuits" that coaches need for themselves - and their clients need:

Increase self-awareness ("Know Yourself")

Respond instead of reacting ("Choose Yourself")

Align your choices with your long-term purpose ("Give Yourself")

Within these three areas are eight practical competencies that serve as tools for using EQ in our daily lives.

The Six Seconds Coach Framework

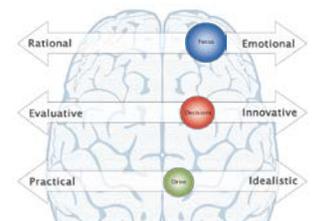

Visually depicted as the EQ Coach Wheel, this framework recognizes that the coach's emotional intelligence is of paramount importance in effective transformation. Change starts on the inside, so coaches need to develop their own skills to be more aware, more intentional, and more purposeful.

The next stage of the framework are the three essential skills of coaching: Listen, Ask, Connect. By using these skills effectively, coaches build their clients' insight and commitment to action.

The final ring shows the goals. Clients need to match up what they do, how they're doing it, and why. This allows them to operate with true integrity, putting their actions, intention, and purpose into alignment.
