COACHING THAT FUELS TRANSFORMATION

Coaching is a powerful process to support people to create positive change – which takes thoughts, feelings, and actions working together. Through this journey you'll learn to apply International Coach Federation (ICF) Core Competencies for the essentials of coaching; a transformational emotional intelligence framework to make coaching highly effective; plus practical tools to provide metrics for growth.

“EQCC has been a truly life-defining journey. It blends profound, timeless theory with ample practical opportunities, all ably supported by exemplary mentor coaches (the student-mentor ratio on this course is laudably small).

I feel honoured to be able to partake in this journey allied with such a wise, authentic, purposeful community.”

KEY CONCEPTS

Six Seconds; Certified EQ Coach program is uniquely powerful because of the robust models and methods that coaches are able to use through this training.

The Change MAP

This model articulates change as an iterative process blending the rational stages of growth with the emotional drivers that make change fail or succeed. Six Seconds' Change MAP provides a framework for designing and delivering coaching as a transformational process.

---

The Six Seconds Model

A process framework for putting emotional intelligence into action, the model includes three key steps, or “pursuits” that coaches need for themselves - and their clients:

- Increase self-awareness (“Know Yourself”)
- Respond instead of reacting (“Choose Yourself”)
- Align your choices with your long-term purpose (“Give Yourself”)

Within these three areas are eight practical competencies that serve as tools for using EQ in our daily lives.

The Six Seconds Coach Framework

Visually depicted as the EQ Coach Wheel, this framework recognizes that the coach’s emotional intelligence is of paramount importance in effective transformation. Change starts on the inside, so coaches need to develop their own skills to be more aware, more intentional, and more purposeful.

The next stage of the framework are the three essential skills of coaching: Listen, Ask, Connect. By using these skills effectively, coaches build their clients’ insight and commitment to action.

The final ring shows the goals. Clients need to match up what they do, how they’re doing it, and why. This allows them to operate with true integrity, putting their actions, intention, and purpose into alignment.

“ I’ve been studying EQ for a number of years and in fact, became certified in the EQ-I Assessment more than 10 years ago. I began looking for a robust EQ system that I could fully integrate into our organization’s leadership development program, as well as enhance my coaching experience. After about 6 months of research, I chose Six Seconds.

I found the Six Seconds EQ Model to be thorough, easy to understand and well grounded in solid research. Their resource library and support personnel are extremely knowledgeable and responsive and the way they melded their EQ model into the International Coaching Foundation credentialing is outstanding. Lastly, being a member of Six Seconds Global Community provides a valuable insight into different cultures and approaches to applying EQ.
